☰ Summary

- Vendors to reinvest in HCP Fastener Holding
- Combined revenues target EUR 50m by 2028 through acquisitions and growth
- Harcos advised by DEinternational Italia and Giovannelli e Associati

Private equity firm Harcos Capital Partners has acquired 100% of privately held Italian screw manufacturer Dell'Era Ermanno e Figlio for EUR 7m, Milano Finanza reported without citing sources.

The Italian-language report said that Harcos made the buy via HCP Fastener Holding. The vendors will reinvest part of the proceeds into taking a stake in HCP Fastener Holding.

The combined revenues of Dell'Era Ermanno e Figlio and Bulloneria del Toce, Harcos's other portfolio company in the fastening sector, are EUR 17m. The report said that the aim is to get to EUR 50m by 2028 through acquisitions and organic growth.

HCP Fastener Holding will act as the aggregating vehicle, the report noted.

DEinternational Italia acted as financial advisor to Harcos, while Giovannelli e Associati acted as legal advisor and Athena Professionisti e Consulenti Associati carried out financial and tax due diligence, according to the report.

Campa Avvocati was legal advisor to Dell'Era Ermanno e Figlio, the report added.
